Management's Discussion and Analysis

Business Conditions in FY2021

With respect to the world economy, the economy in various regions, including Japan, Europe, America, and other Asian countries, recovered moderately with the widespread use of vaccines against COVID-19 during this fiscal year. However, due to the expansion of people infected with variant strains of the virus, measures to restrict economic activity were taken intermittently in various countries. In addition, the global semiconductor supply shortage, soaring material prices, and logistics stagnation have become more serious. Moreover, since February this year, the situation in Ukraine has been tense. Due to such factors mentioned above, the outlook has continued to be uncertain.

Review of Operations in FY2021

The business circumstances of the Sumitomo Electric Group, were challenging due to soaring material prices, logistics cost increases mainly caused by container shortages and harbor congestion, in addition to a decrease in the production of automobiles caused by a shortage of semiconductors and other components. In this environment, we worked to thoroughly reduce costs and maintain our supply chain.

As a result, regarding the consolidated financial results for this fiscal year, net sales were ¥3,367,863 million (preceding fiscal year: ¥2,918,580 million; +15.4%). Operating income was ¥122,195 million (preceding fiscal year: ¥113,926 million; +7.3%), with an operating margin of 3.6% (preceding fiscal year: 3.9%; -0.3 percentage points).

Profit attributable to owners of the parent was ¥96,306 million (preceding fiscal year: ¥56,344 million; +70.9%). In this way, income and profits increased from the preceding fiscal year, on which the impact of COVID-19 was enormous.

Segment Information

Automotive:

Due to an increase in the price of copper and the effect of depreciation of the yen, net sales increased by ¥152,153 million (9.5% compared with the preceding fiscal year) to ¥1,754,195 million. Operating income decreased by ¥35,934 million to ¥12,264 million due to soaring material prices and a significant increase in logistics cost caused by global logistics confusion, and also due to a decline in production efficiency caused by a succession of decreases in the production of automobiles resulting from a short supply of semiconductors and other factors. The operating income margin fell by 2.3 percentage points to 0.7%.

Infocommunications:

Net sales increased by ¥14,574 million (6.5% compared with the preceding fiscal year) to ¥239,150 million as a result of expanding sales of products such as optical wiring equipment for data centers, optical fibers for submarine cables, and access network equipment. Operating income decreased by ¥945 million to ¥23,398 million due to a decline in profitability associated with changes in the composition of product classes of optical/electronic devices. The operating income margin fell by 1.0 percentage points to 9.8%.

Electronics:

Net sales increased by ¥39,891 million (15.8% compared with the preceding fiscal year) to ¥292,509 million as a result of an increase in sales by TECHNO ASSOCIE Co., Ltd., in addition to capturing demands for electronic wire products and irradiation tubes. Operating income increased by ¥9,778 million to ¥19,825 million, mainly due to the improvement of profitability associated with an increase in sales of high-performance products of FPCs (flexible printed circuits) for mobile devices. The operating income margin improved by 2.8 percentage points to 6.8%.

Environment and Energy:

Net sales increased by ¥199,234 million (31.4% compared with the preceding fiscal year) to ¥833,425 million, and operating income increased by ¥19,000 million to ¥44,024 million due to the effect of an increase in the price of copper, in addition to the expansion of sales of power cables, flat magnet wires for electric vehicles, etc.; an increase in Sumitomo Densetsu Co., Ltd.'s electric work; and an increase in demand for substation equipment, etc. from Nissin Electric Co., Ltd. The operating income margin improved by 1.4 percentage points to 5.3%. Meanwhile, orders received for plant and installation work came to ¥369,982 million (the order backlog at end of this fiscal year being ¥384,610 million), a rise of ¥28,304 million (8.3%).

Industrial Materials and Others:

Due to an increase in demand for cemented carbide tools, diamond and CBN tools, sintered powder metal parts, prestressed concrete, steel tire cords, etc., net sales increased by ¥25,359 million (8.4% compared with the preceding fiscal year) to ¥327,883 million. Operating income increased by ¥16,364 million to ¥23,024 million, mainly due to the improvement of profitability associated with an increase in the operation rate of factories. The operating income margin improved by 4.8 percentage points to 7.0%.

Cash Flows

Net cash provided by operating activities recorded ¥76,002 million, a decrease by ¥93,654 million compared with the preceding fiscal year, after adjustment of the fluctuation in working capital made in the cash flow generated by business activities of ¥340,429 million, represented by an addition of depreciation and amortization of ¥180,508 million back in profit before income taxes of ¥159,921 million.

Net cash used in investing activities recorded ¥165,447 million, an increase by ¥2,017 million compared with the preceding fiscal year, due to capital expenditure of ¥174,059 million on the purchase of property, plant and equipment.

Free cash flow, represented by net cash used in investing activities offset against net cash provided by operating activities, was negative ¥89,445 million, while free cash flow was positive ¥6,226 million in the preceding fiscal year.

Cash flow from financing activities recorded an increase of ¥82,816 million, while a decrease of ¥13,099 million was recorded in the preceding fiscal year, due to a net increase in loans payable offset against redemption of bonds and payment of dividends.

Year-end balance of cash and cash equivalents stood at ¥255,540 million, a year-on-year increase of ¥4,099 million (1.6%).

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

SUMITOMO ELECTRIC INDUSTRIES, LTD. AND CONSOLIDATED SUBSIDIARIES

March 31, 2022 and 2021

1. BASIS OF PRESENTING CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Sumitomo Electric Industries, Ltd. (the "Company") and most of its domestic consolidated subsidiaries maintain their accounts and records in Japanese yen and in accordance with the provisions set forth in the Japanese Corporate Law (the "Law"), the Japanese Financial Instruments and Exchange Act and its related accounting regulations and in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan ("Japanese GAAP"), which are different in certain respects as to application and disclosure requirements from International Financial Reporting Standards.

The accounts of overseas consolidated subsidiaries and some domestic consolidated subsidiaries are prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") with adjustments for the following specified five items as applicable.

- a) Goodwill not subject to amortization
- b) Actuarial gains and losses of defined benefit retirement plans recognized outside profit and loss
- c) Capitalized expenditures for research and development activities
- d) Fair value measurement of investment properties and revaluation of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets
- e) Subsequent changes in fair value of equity instruments presented as other comprehensive income

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been restructured and translated into English, with some expanded descriptions, from the consolidated financial statements of the Company prepared in accordance with Japanese GAAP and filed with the appropriate Local Finance Bureau of the Ministry of Finance in Japan as required by the Japanese Financial Instruments and Exchange Act. Some supplementary information included in the statutory consolidated financial statements prepared in Japanese, but not required for fair presentation, is not presented in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

The translations of the Japanese yen amounts into U.S. dollar amounts are included solely for the convenience of readers outside Japan, using the prevailing exchange rate at March 31, 2022, which was ¥122.39 to U.S. $1.00. These translations should not be construed as representations that the Japanese yen amounts have been, could have been or could in the future be converted into U.S. dollars at this or any other rate of exchange.

Amounts in the consolidated financial statements and notes are rounded to the nearest million yen. For translations into U.S. dollars, amounts are rounded to the nearest thousand dollars. As a result, totals shown in the consolidated financial statements and notes do not necessarily agree with the sum of the individual amounts.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a) Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and all of its significant subsidiaries. All significant intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated. The difference between the cost of investments in consolidated subsidiaries and the underlying equity at dates of acquisition is treated as goodwill.

Investments in unconsolidated subsidiaries and affiliates are, with minor exceptions, accounted for using the equity method. Investments in unconsolidated subsidiaries and affiliates not accounted for using the equity method are stated at cost.

All of the overseas consolidated subsidiaries that have a fiscal year ending other than March 31 have processed additional annual financial closings for the March-end date for consolidation purposes, aiming at a more appropriate disclosure.

b) Translation of Foreign Currencies

All assets and liabilities of overseas subsidiaries and affiliates are translated into Japanese yen at the respective fiscal year-end exchange rates, revenues and expenses are translated at average exchange rates, and shareholders' equity is translated at historical rates. The resulting foreign currency translation adjustments are shown as a separate component of net assets, net of non-controlling interests.

c) Cash and Time Deposits

Cash and time deposits include cash on hand, readily available deposits and deposits with a maturity of one year or less.

d) Securities

The Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries classify and account for securities as follows:

Held-to-maturity debt securities are stated at amortized cost. Investments in unconsolidated subsidiaries and affiliates, excluding those accounted for using the equity method, are stated at cost.

Debt and equity securities not classified as above are classified as available-for-sale securities. Available-for-sale securities other than those without market values are stated at the fair value at the fiscal year end, and unrealized holding gains and losses, net of related taxes and non-controlling interests, are reported as a separate component of net assets. Available-for-sale securities without market values are stated at moving average cost. Realized gains and losses on sales of such securities are computed using moving average cost.

Held-to-maturity debt securities and available-for-sale securities maturing within one year from the fiscal year end and highly liquid investment funds are included in securities in current assets. Other securities are included in investments in unconsolidated subsidiaries and affiliates and investment securities.

e) Derivatives and Hedging Transactions

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries utilize hedge accounting for foreign currency forward exchange contracts hedging foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities, foreign currency swap contracts hedging foreign currency debt and others, interest rate swap contracts hedging interest on debt and others and commodity forward contracts, etc., hedging raw materials.

Derivative financial instruments are stated at fair value. If the derivative financial instruments meet certain hedging criteria, the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries defer the recognition of gains and losses until the hedged transactions occur. Certain foreign currency forward exchange contracts and foreign currency swap contracts meeting certain conditions are accounted for as a part of translating foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities in the consolidated balance sheet. In cases in which an interest rate swap contract is used as a hedge and meets certain hedging criteria, the net amount to be paid or received under the interest rate swap contract is added to or deducted from the interest on the assets or liabilities for which the swap contract was executed.

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries utilize hedging instruments to hedge risks of future changes in foreign exchange rates, interest rates and prices of raw materials in accordance with respective internal policies and procedures on risk control.

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries assess the effectiveness of each hedge contract by comparing the total cash flow fluctuation of hedging instruments and hedged items, except in cases in which interest rate swap contracts are used as hedges and meet certain hedging criteria.

f) Allowance for Doubtful Receivables

The allowance for doubtful receivables is provided based upon estimated uncollectible amounts of individually identified doubtful receivables and historical loss experience for other receivables.

g) Inventories

Inventories are stated mainly at the lower of the cost, using the weighted average method, or net realizable value.

h) Property, Plant and Equipment (excluding leases)

The straight-line method is applied.

i) Goodwill

Goodwill is amortized on a straight-line basis over a period within 20 years (mostly 5 or 10 years).

j) Revenue Recognition

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries recognize the amount expected to be received in exchange for promised goods or services as revenue at the time when the control of the goods or services is transferred to the customer.

The main businesses of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries are manufacture and sales of products in the following business segments: Automotive, Infocommunications, Electronics, Environment and Energy and Industrial Materials and Others. Revenue for domestic sales transactions is recognized mainly at the time of the acceptance inspection by the customer or arrival at the customer, and revenue for export sales transactions is recognized mainly at the time when risks are transferred to the customer on the basis of trade terms such as incoterms. In the Environment and Energy segment, the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries operate the business of design and construction, such as the installation of products, as well as the manufacture and sales of the products. For construction contracts in which the performance obligation is satisfied over time, revenue is recognized based on the estimated progress towards the satisfaction of the performance obligation. For other contracts, revenue is recognized mainly on the completion of installation as the performance obligation is satisfied at that point in time. Consideration for the transaction is received mainly within one year from the satisfaction of the performance obligation and does not include a significant financing component.

k) Research and Development

Expenses related to research and development activities are charged to expenses as incurred and totaled ¥123,060 million (US$1,005,474 thousand) and ¥118,820 million for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

l) Retirement Benefits

(1) Method of attributing expected benefits to periods of service

When calculating retirement benefit obligations, a benefit formula basis is used for attributing expected retirement benefits to periods of service.

(2) Method for calculating expenses for actuarial gains and losses and past service cost

The amount of defined benefit liabilities (assets) is based on the benefit obligation and fair value of plan assets at the end of the fiscal year.

Past service cost is amortized on a straight-line basis over certain periods within the average remaining service years of employees (mainly 3 years) from the year in which it arises or accounted for as an expense when it arises at some consolidated subsidiaries.

Actuarial gains and losses are amortized on a straight-line basis over certain periods within the average remaining service years of employees (mainly 14 years) from the year following the year in which they arise. At some consolidated subsidiaries, they are accounted for as an expense when they arise.

m) Income Taxes

Income tax expense comprises current and deferred tax.

Current tax comprises the expected tax payable or receivable on the taxable income or loss for the year and any adjustment to the tax payable or receivable in respect of previous years. It is measured using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax is accounted for by the asset-liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on the financial statements carrying amounts and tax bases of assets and liabilities using the effective tax rates in effect for the year in which the temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. Deferred tax assets are also recognized for the estimated future tax effects attributable to operating loss carryforwards.

n) Leases

Leased assets related to finance leases which do not transfer ownership of the lease assets and right-of-use assets in consolidated subsidiaries that apply IFRS 16 "Leases" are depreciated by the straight-line method, assuming the lease period as the useful life and no residual value.

o) Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows

In preparing the consolidated statement of cash flows, cash on hand, readily available deposits and short-term highly liquid investments with maturities not exceeding three months at the time of purchase are considered to be cash and cash equivalents.

p) Appropriation of Retained Earnings

The Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries record cash dividends as a charge directly to retained earnings in the fiscal year in which the appropriation of retained earnings is approved at the shareholders' meeting.

q) Use of Estimates

In the preparation of these financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, the management has made estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Certain amounts based upon accounting estimates and recorded in the financial statements of the current fiscal year may have a significant effect on the following fiscal year ending March 31, 2023 as follows:

(Large construction projects)

(1) Amount recorded in the consolidated financial statements for the current fiscal year

The amount of sales in the Environment and Energy segment was ¥833,425 million.

(2) Other information that contributes to the understanding of accounting estimates

In the Environment and Energy segment, the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries operate the business of design and construction such as electrical/power supply work, engineering and installation of products as well as the manufacture and sales of the products.

In the recognition of revenue for construction contracts when the performance obligation is satisfied over time, revenue is recognized over time based on the estimated progress towards the satisfaction of that performance obligation. If it is possible to measure the outcome of the performance obligation reasonably, the method used to estimate the progress towards the satisfaction of the performance obligation is the input method based on the ratio of the actual costs to the total estimated costs. If it is not possible to measure the outcome of the performance obligation reasonably, revenue is recognized only to the extent of actual costs incurred.

When estimating the total construction cost, the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries calculate the appropriate cost after considering the entire content of the work to be performed according to the customer's specifications, and review the estimate in a timely manner in response to any change in the situation after receiving the order. However, regarding long-term construction projects, such as installation projects of high-voltage direct current cables for interconnections among national and regional power electric utilities or remote island power transmission business and submarine power cables for large commercial offshore wind power generation business, if additional costs that exceed the estimate as of the end of the consolidated fiscal year are incurred because of unexpected circumstances such as an extension of the construction period or additional costs due to the influence of the weather or unforeseen changes in the work content, the profit and loss of the next consolidated fiscal year may be affected.

r) Reclassifications and Restatements

Certain prior year amounts are reclassified and restated to conform to the current year presentation. These reclassifications and restatements have had no effect on previously reported results of operations or retained earnings.

The disclosure provisions of the "Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition" (ASBJ Statement No. 29, March 31, 2020) and the "Implementation Guidance on Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition" (ASBJ Guidance No. 30, March 26, 2021) have been applied since the beginning of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2022. In accordance with the application, in the consolidated balance sheet, "Trade notes and accounts receivable" which was previously presented in "Current assets" is included in "Trade notes and accounts receivable" and "Contract assets," and "Other current liabilities," which was previously presented in "Current liabilities," is included in "Contract liabilities," and "Other current liabilities." No reclassification has been made for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2021 using the new presentation in accordance with the transitional treatment prescribed in Paragraph 89-4 of the Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition.

In addition, no note regarding the Revenue Recognition for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2021 has been made in accordance with the transitional treatment prescribed in Paragraph 89-4 of the Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition.

s) Adoption of Consolidated Taxation System

The Company and its wholly owned domestic consolidated subsidiaries have adopted the consolidated taxation system.

t) Application of Tax Effect Accounting for the Transition from the Consolidated Taxation System to the Group Tax Sharing System

The Company and its wholly owned domestic consolidated subsidiaries will transition from the consolidated taxation system to the group tax sharing system in the next consolidated fiscal year. However, regarding the transition to the group tax sharing system established by the "Act for Partial Revision of the Income Tax Act etc." (Act No. 8 of 2020) and its related revision of the taxation system for a stand-alone entity, in accordance with the paragraph 3 of the "Practical Solution on the Treatment of Tax Effect Accounting for the Transition from the Consolidated Taxation System to the Group Tax Sharing System" (PITF No. 39, March 31, 2020), the amounts of the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities of the Company and its wholly owned domestic consolidated subsidiaries are based on the tax regulation before the revision without applying the paragraph 44 of the "Implementation Guidance on Tax Effect Accounting" (ASBJ Guidance No. 28, February 16, 2018).

From the beginning of the next consolidated fiscal year, the Company and its wholly owned domestic consolidated subsidiaries plan to apply the "Practical Solution on the Accounting and Disclosure Under the Group Tax Sharing System" (PITF No. 42, August 12, 2021), which provides for the accounting treatment and disclosure of corporate tax, local corporate tax and tax effect accounting under the group tax sharing system.

u) Changes in Accounting Policy

(Application of Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement, etc.)

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries have applied the "Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement" (ASBJ Statement No. 30, July 4, 2019) and the revised other related standards since the beginning of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2022 and have applied the new accounting policy set forth by the Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement, etc., prospectively in accordance with the transitional treatment provided in Paragraph 19 of the Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement and Paragraph 44-2 of the "Accounting Standard for Financial Instruments" (ASBJ Statement No. 10, July 4, 2019). The application of these standards has had no effect on the consolidated financial statements.

Notes to the breakdown of fair value of financial instruments by level are provided in "Note 4. Financial Instruments," but do not include information for the prior fiscal year in accordance with the transitional treatment provided in Paragraph 7-4 of the "Implementation Guidance on Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments" (ASBJ Guidance No. 19, March 31, 2020).

v) Standard Issued but Not Yet Adopted

- Implementation Guidance on Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement (ASBJ Guidance No. 31, June 17, 2021)

(1) Summary

Implementation Guidance on Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement (ASBJ Guidance No. 31) published on July 4, 2019 was revised on June 17, 2021.

When the guidance was published, it indicated that because a certain period of time may be required to discuss the fair value measurement of the investment trust with the people involved and in order to consider the notes regarding the fair value of investments in the unions or other organizations reported by net amount of equity on the balance sheet, around 1 year was required for discussion and consideration after publication of Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement. As a result the guidance has been revised and published on June 17, 2021.

(2) Planned Adoption Date

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries will adopt the revised guidance from the beginning of the fiscal year ending March 31, 2023.

(3) Impact of Adoption

The impact of the adoption of the revised guidance on the consolidated statement of income has not yet been determined.

3. CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS

a) Reconciliations

The reconciliations between cash and time deposits in the consolidated balance sheet and cash and cash equivalents in the consolidated statement of cash flows as of March 31, 2022 and 2021 were as follows:

	Millions of yen		Thousands of U.S. dollars

Cash and cash equivalents	¥255,540	¥251,441	$2,087,916

4. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

a) Qualitative Information on Financial Instruments

(1) Policies for using financial instruments

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries finance investment in equipment and operating capital for business mainly through borrowings from banks and the issuance of bonds and commercial papers in accordance with their cash flow planning. Temporary excess cash is managed with low risk financial assets. The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries use derivative transactions only to hedge the risk of future changes in cash flows and fair values and not for trading purpose.

(2) Details of financial instruments used and the exposures to risk and how they arise

Trade notes and accounts receivable are exposed to the credit risks of customers. The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries try to reduce and manage the risk according to rules for credit control. Operating receivables denominated in foreign currencies are exposed to foreign exchange risks. The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries hedge the risks using forward exchange contracts, etc., for the net position of foreign currency operating receivables and payables. Securities and investment securities are held mainly to build and strengthen long-term and stable customer relationships and to facilitate business and technical customer partnerships and are exposed to market value fluctuation risks. The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries review the circumstances periodically and evaluate the fair value of the securities and investment securities and the financial condition of the issuers, which are generally business counterparties.

Payment terms of operating payables such as trade notes and accounts payable are mostly less than one year. Operating payables denominated in foreign currencies are exposed to foreign exchange risks, but it is consistently less than the accounts receivable balance denominated in the same foreign currencies. The main purpose of holding debt and issuing bonds and commercial papers is to secure financing for capital expenditure and working capital. The derivative transactions entered into comprise forward exchange contracts to hedge exchange risks of foreign currency debts and credits, interest swap contracts to hedge fluctuation risks of interest rates and fair value for debt and bonds and commodity forward transactions to hedge the risk of price fluctuation for raw materials. The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries manage and control these risks according to management's rules for derivative transactions.

b) Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying amounts and fair values of the financial instruments on the consolidated balance sheet as of March 31, 2022 and 2021 are set forth in the table below. Securities without market values are not included in "Investment securities." Cash is omitted. In addition, time deposits, trade notes and accounts receivable, securities, trade notes and accounts payable, short-term debt and commercial papers are also omitted because their carrying amounts approximate the fair value because of the short maturity.

c) Breakdown of fair value of financial instruments by level

The fair values of financial instruments are categorized into three levels on the basis of the observability and the materiality of the valuation inputs used in fair value measurements.

Fair values of Level 1: Fair values measured by quoted prices for the assets or liabilities are given in active markets among observable valuation inputs

Fair values of Level 2: Fair values measured by inputs other than inputs included within Level 1 among observable valuation inputs

Fair values of Level 3: Fair values measured by unobservable valuation inputs

When several inputs that have significant impact on the fair value measurement are used and those inputs are categorized into different levels, the fair value is categorized into the lowest priority level for fair value measurement among the levels in which each of the inputs belongs.

(3) Explanation of valuation techniques and valuation inputs used in fair value measurements

Investment securities:

The fair value of listed shares is stated at the fair market value in active markets and is categorized as Level 1.

The fair value of unlisted shares is determined using valuation techniques based on market prices of comparable companies and others and is categorized as Level 3. In measuring the fair value of unlisted shares, unobservable inputs, such as valuation multiples, are used.

Derivative transactions:

The fair value of derivative transactions is measured by the discounted present value method using interest rates in consideration of future cash flow based on prices presented by financial institutions and financial brokers or forward exchange rates, etc., and is categorized as Level 2.

Bonds:

The fair value of bonds is stated at the fair market value and is categorized as Level 2.

Long-term debt:

The fair value of long-term debt is estimated based on the present value of future cash flows using appropriate current discount rates and is categorized as Level 2.

6. DERIVATIVE TRANSACTIONS

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries have entered into foreign currency forward exchange contracts, foreign currency option contracts and foreign currency swap contracts to hedge risks of exchange rate fluctuations in connection with foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities, interest rate swap contracts to hedge risks of interest rate fluctuations and commodity forward contracts, etc., to hedge risks of fluctuations in the price of raw materials. The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries use derivative transactions for managing market risk related to recorded assets and liabilities as well as for future commitments and not for speculation or dealing purposes. The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries deal only with highly rated international financial institutions and trading concerns as counterparties to these transactions to minimize credit risk exposure. Derivative transactions are entered into by each operational division, and the processing of the transactions is controlled and reviewed by administrative divisions in accordance with established policies that restrict dealing in derivatives, including limits on authority and amounts.

9. NET ASSETS

Under the Law, the entire amount of the issue price of shares is required to be accounted for as common stock. However a company may, by a resolution of the Board of Directors, account for an amount not exceeding 50% of the issue price of the new shares as additional paid-in capital, which is included in capital surplus. However, an increase resulting from a share exchange can be included in capital surplus up to the full amount.

The Law provides that the smaller of an amount equal to 10% of the dividend or the excess, if any, of 25% of common stock over the total of additional paid-in capital and legal earnings reserve must be set aside as additional paid-in capital or legal earnings reserve, in cases in which a dividend distribution of surplus is made.

Under the Law, additional paid-in capital may be used to eliminate or reduce a deficit or may be capitalized by a resolution of the shareholders' meeting, and legal earnings reserve may be used to eliminate or reduce a deficit by a resolution of the shareholders' meeting. Legal earnings reserve is included in retained earnings in the accompanying financial statements.

Additional paid-in capital and legal earnings reserve may not be distributed as dividends. Under the Law, all additional paid-in capital and all legal earnings reserve may be transferred to other capital surplus and retained earnings, respectively, which are potentially available for dividends.

The maximum amount that a company can distribute as dividends is calculated based on its non-consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Law.

10. AMOUNTS PER SHARE

Basic earnings per share is computed based on the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding during each period. Diluted earnings per share is computed based on the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding increased by the number of shares which would have been outstanding assuming the conversion of all dilutive bonds and the exercise of all dilutive share warrants at the beginning of the period after giving effect to the dilutive potential of shares. The related interest expense, net of income taxes, has been eliminated for the purpose of this calculation.

In the year ended March 31, 2022 and 2021, there were no potentially dilutive common shares.

Cash dividends per share in the consolidated statement of income are dividends applicable to the respective years, including dividends to be paid after the end of the consolidated fiscal year.

Total	100.0%	100.0%

2. Long-term expected rate of return

Current and target asset allocations and historical and expected returns on various categories of plan assets have been considered in determining the long-term expected rate of return.

(9) Actuarial assumptions

The principal actuarial assumptions at March 31, 2022 and 2021 (expressed as weighted averages) were as follows:

	FY2021	FY2020
Discount rate	0.9%	0.8%
Long-term expected rate of return	1.9	1.8

The Company and some of its consolidated subsidiaries do not apply expected rates of pay raises to calculate retirement benefit obligations because they have adopted a point basis.

b) Defined Contribution Plans and Prepaid Retirement Allowance Plans

The amount of required contributions to the defined contribution plans and the prepaid retirement allowance plans of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries was ¥7,194 million (US$58,779 thousand) and ¥5,953 million for FY2021 and FY2020, respectively.

14. CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

Contingent liabilities as of March 31, 2022 and 2021 were as follows:

15. GAIN ON CHANGE IN EQUITY IN EXTRAORDINARY INCOME

In fiscal year 2021, the gain on change in equity in extraordinary income was due to the change in the Company's equity in an overseas affiliate accounted for by the equity method resulting from a business combination in which the overseas affiliate was the combined company.

16. GAIN ON RETURN OF ASSETS FROM RETIREMENT BENEFIT TRUST

In fiscal year 2021, gain on return of assets from retirement benefit trust in extraordinary income resulted from amortization of unrecognized actuarial gains and losses related to the return of a portion of retirement benefit trust of the Company.

17. FIRE INSURANCE RECOVERY GAIN IN EXTRAORDINARY INCOME

In fiscal year 2021, the fire insurance recovery gain in extraordinary income was the insurance income for damages caused by a fire which occurred at a distribution center to which a consolidated subsidiary outsource product storage and other operations.

18. LOSS ON DISPOSAL OF PROPERTY, PLANT AND EQUIPMENT

Loss on disposal of property, plant and equipment for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021 was as follows:

	Millions of yen		Thousands of U.S. dollars
	FY2021	FY2020	FY2021

Machinery, equipment and others	2,604	1,853	21,276
Other	537	477	4,388

19. IMPAIRMENT LOSS ON FIXED ASSETS

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries grouped long-lived assets into asset groups by business segment and conducted impairment tests with the conclusion that the carrying amounts should be reduced to the recoverable amounts by ¥8,832 million (US$72,163 thousand) and ¥10,051 million in FY2021 and FY2020, respectively. The recoverable amount is mainly the net selling price.

Impairment loss on fixed assets for each reportable segment is disclosed in Note 23 b) (4), for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021.

Impairment loss on fixed assets for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021 was as follows:

FY2021	Millions of yen	Thousands of U.S. dollars
Machinery, equipment and others	¥5,587	$45,649

Other	1,034
	¥10,051*

* The amount of ¥813 million is included in "Restructuring expenses" (Note 20) in the consolidated statement of income for fiscal year 2020.

20. RESTRUCTURING EXPENSES

In fiscal year 2021, restructuring expenses of ¥5,405 million (US$44,162 thousand) were related to the partial review of R&D themes and the reorganization of the business locations, etc., to strengthen profitability and to make the production structure more efficient.

In fiscal year 2020, restructuring expenses of ¥8,286 million were related to the reorganization and closing of business locations, etc., to strengthen profitability and to make the production structure of the anti-vibration rubber business, optical devices business, wiring harness business, FPC business, etc., more efficient.

Major expenses for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021 were as follows:

FY2021	Millions of yen	Thousands of U.S. dollars
Impairment loss on fixed assets (Note 19)	¥2,376	$19,413
Loss on disposal of fixed assets	1,498	12,240

FY2020	Millions of yen
Loss related to transfer of shares of subsidiary	¥2,698
Extra payment of retirement benefits	2,402
Impairment loss on fixed assets (Note 19)	813

21. LOSS DUE TO FIRE IN EXTRAORDINARY LOSSES

In fiscal year 2021, the loss due to fire in extraordinary losses was due to the loss of products, etc., caused by a fire which occurred at a distribution center to which a consolidated subsidiary outsource product storage and other operations.

22. REVENUE RECOGNITION

a) Disaggregation of revenue

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries derive revenue primarily from contracts with customers. The following table shows the disaggregation of revenue attributable to each reportable segment and its main products. Revenues from other sources are not material.

Contract assets	30,030	35,937	245,363
Contract liabilities	46,355	33,920	378,748

The increase in contract assets was caused mainly by revenue recognition and the decrease in contract assets was caused mainly by their transfer to trade receivables.

The increase in contract liabilities was caused mainly by the receipt of advances from customers and the decrease in contract liabilities was caused mainly by revenue recognition.

Of the revenue recognized during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2022, ¥25,619 million (US$209,323 thousand) was included in contract liabilities at the beginning of the fiscal year. And revenue recognized in relation to performance obligations satisfied or partially satisfied in past periods was not material.

c) Transaction price allocated to remaining performance obligations

The following table shows the total amounts of transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligations and the period when the revenues were expected to be recognized in the Environment and Energy segment. There were no significant amounts of consideration arising from contracts with customers that were not included in the transaction price.

Except for those of some consolidated subsidiaries, transactions with initial expected contract terms of less than one year were not included in the amounts below.

In some consolidated subsidiaries, the transaction price in a contract in which the schedule of installation was not determined as of the end of the fiscal year ended March 31, 2022, is classified by the timing for the completion of the installation.

The segments except Environment and Energy, which have contracts in which initial expected terms are mainly one year or less are not included in this disclosure.

23. SEGMENT INFORMATION

a) Reportable Segments

The reportable segments of the Company are business areas for which separate financial information is available for the President, the supreme decision maker in the Company, to make decisions regarding resource allocation and to evaluate business results.

The Company has adopted a business unit system based upon similarities in each product category, methods for manufacturing, sales markets, etc., and devises comprehensive strategies for the Company and its affiliates by dividing businesses such as product development, manufacturing, sales and supplementary services into the following five classifications: "Automotive," "Infocommunications," "Electronics," "Environment and Energy" and "Industrial Materials and Others." Therefore, the Company considers the above five classifications as reportable segments.

The methods used to account for sales, profit or loss, assets and other items by reportable segment are in accordance with the accounting policies stated in Note 2. Intersegment sales are stated at current market value.

Automotive:

Wiring harnesses, anti-vibration rubbers, automotive hoses, and car electronic components

Infocommunications:

Optical fiber cables, telecommunication cables and equipment, fusion splicers, optical/wireless devices such as optical transceiver modules/wireless communication devices, and access network equipment (GE-PON/set-top box/CATV-related products, etc.)

Electronics:

Electronic wires, electric beam irradiation products, flexible printed circuits, fluorine resin products, fasteners, metal parts, and chemical products

Environment and Energy:

Electric conductors, power transmission wires/cables/equipment, magnet wires, air cushions for railroad vehicles, power system equipment such as substation equipment/control systems, charged beam equipment and processing, electrical/power supply work and engineering, and porous metals

Industrial Materials and Others:

Tensioning materials for prestressed concrete, precision spring steel wires, steel tire cord, cemented carbide tools, diamond and CBN tools, laser optics, sintered powder metal parts, and semiconductors heat-spreader materials

Independent auditor's report

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Sumitomo Electric Industries, Ltd. (“the Company”) and its consolidated subsidiaries (collectively referred to as “the Group”), which comprise the consolidated balance sheet as at March 31, 2022, the consolidated statements of income, comprehensive income, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes, comprising a summary of significant accounting policies, other explanatory information.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as at March 31, 2022, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements in Japan, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

We determined that the Company's estimate of total costs for large-scale construction contracts is a key audit matter in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for the current fiscal year.

The Company's valuation of fixed assets used in the Electronics business was one of the key audit matters in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for the previous fiscal year. As that business improved its profitability, we determined that this matter was not a key audit matter in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period.

Appropriateness of the estimate of the total construction costs for large-scale contracts

The key audit matter	How the matter was addressed in our audit

As described in Note 2 – j), “Revenue recognition” to the consolidated financial statements, Sumitomo Electric Industries, Ltd. (the “Company”) and its consolidated subsidiaries recognized revenue, in the consolidated financial statements for the current fiscal year, from performance obligations as they are satisfied over time, mainly for construction contracts in the Environment & Energy segment, based on the estimated progress towards complete satisfaction of those performance obligations. The progress towards the completion of construction is estimated based on a proportion of construction costs incurred to the total construction costs in the project budgets. The order backlog in the Environment & Energy segment amounted to ¥384,610 million at the end of the current fiscal year.

Installation constructions of the high-voltage direct current cables for interconnections among national and regional power electric utilities, remote island power transmission business, and the submarine power cables for large commercial offshore wind power generation business within the Environment & Energy segment are characterized by (1) long construction periods and individually unique conditions; (2) frequent changes in construction periods and tasks subsequent to accepting orders due to changes in circumstances; and (3) the resulting revisions to the total construction costs at multiple times throughout the period until completion. Accordingly, it is important that the estimate of the total construction costs is revised in a timely manner in response to changes in circumstances and that all the costs required to complete the construction are reflected in the project budgets. In addition, the estimate of the total construction costs includes the following estimate involving uncertainties:

- additional costs to be incurred as a result of changes in construction tasks during construction.

We, therefore, determined that our

With respect to the Company’s estimate of the total construction costs used to calculate the progress towards the completion of large-scale contracts for power cable installation for revenue recognition in the Environment & Energy segment, we performed the following audit procedures with direct involvement of the senior members of the engagement team:

- (1) We tested the design and operating effectiveness of certain of the Company’s internal controls related to the project budgets for construction contracts. In this assessment, we focused our testing on the following internal controls:
 - controls relevant to risk assessment at the order acceptance;
 - controls relevant to approvals of the project budgets; and
 - controls relevant to monitoring of the project budgets.
- (2) In order to assess whether the project budgets for construction contracts used to estimate the progress towards the completion of construction were appropriately prepared, we primarily:
 - inspected the construction contracts to understand important terms and conditions;
 - inquired of the construction project managers regarding the progress of construction and any changes in the project budgets as well as additional questions, as necessary, regarding their judgment as to whether the project budgets should be revised thoroughly by exercising our professional skepticism, and inspected the documents supporting their responses;
 - inspected the materials for the project progress meetings in which revisions to the project budgets were discussed on a quarterly basis, inquired of the construction project managers, the personnel responsible for the Planning & Administrative Department and the personnel responsible for the Accounting Department, among others, regarding their judgment on costs to be included in the project budgets, and assessed whether their responses were consistent;
 - assessed the precision of the project budgets

assessment of the appropriateness of the Company's estimate of the total construction costs used to calculate the progress towards the completion of large-scale contracts for revenue recognition was of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for the current fiscal year, and accordingly, a key audit matter.	by comparing planned costs for the current fiscal year included in the project budget with actual costs incurred, and evaluated whether any differences were properly reflected in the revisions to the project budgets.

Other Information

The other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report, but does not include the consolidated financial statements, the financial statements, and our auditor's reports thereon. Management is responsible for the preparation and presentation of the other information. Corporate auditors and the board of corporate auditors are responsible for overseeing the directors' performance of their duties with regard to the design, implementation and maintenance of the reporting process for the other information.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and Corporate Auditors and the Board of Corporate Auditors for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Corporate auditors and the board of corporate auditors are responsible for overseeing the directors' performance of their duties with regard to the design, implementation and maintenance of the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, while the objective of the audit is not to express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate whether the presentation and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements are in accordance with accounting standards generally accepted in Japan, the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with corporate auditors and the board of corporate auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide corporate auditors and the board of corporate auditors with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with corporate auditors and the board of corporate auditors, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Convenience Translation

The U.S. dollar amounts in the accompanying consolidated financial statements with respect to the year ended March 31, 2022 are presented solely for convenience. Our audit also included the translation of yen amounts into U.S. dollar amounts and, in our opinion, such translation has been made on the basis described in Note 1 to the consolidated financial statements.
